

CANDES Preconference Symposium

Monitoring and controlling ovarian activity in CANDES

January 13, 2018

Program Chair: Pierre Comizzoli

- 08:45 – 09:15 Registration, welcome and introductory remarks
- 09:15 Keynote lecture
Comparative ovarian function and reproductive monitoring of endangered mammals
Janine Brown, Smithsonian Conservation Biology Institute, USA
- 10:00 Monitoring and controlling ovarian activity in wild felids
Ampika Thongphakdee, Zoological Park Organization of Thailand, Thailand
- 10:30 Coffee break
- 10:45 Monitoring and controlling ovarian activity in elephants
Chachote Thitaram, Chiang Mai University, Thailand
- 11:15 Monitoring and controlling follicular activity in camelids
Ahmed Tibary, Washington State University, USA
- 11:45 CANDES Trainee Travel Award
Femke Van Den Berghe, James Cook University, Australia
- 12:05 Lunch break
- 13:15 Monitoring and controlling ovarian activity in Ungulates
Sadanand Sontakke, Centre for Cellular and Molecular Biology, India
- 13:45 Recent advances in tools and technologies for monitoring and controlling ovarian activity in marsupials
John Rodger, University of Newcastle, Australia
- 14:15 Monitoring and controlling ovarian function in the rhinoceros
Terri Roth, CREW/ Cincinnati Zoo, USA
- 14:45 Ovarian control and monitoring Amphibians
Natalia Calatayud, San Diego Zoo Institute for Conservation Research, USA
- 15:15 Final discussion and remarks – Coffee Break
- 15:45 End of Program