If sold by oocyte producer to embryo producer, two copies must be sent to embryo producer.

CONDITIONS FOR COMPLETING EMBRYO CERTIFICATES

A3a. Complete Certificate of Source of Host Cytoplasm/Oocyte for each one-day batch of oocytes produced from each collection of ovaries collected on the date shown on this record form. The person responsible for identifying the source of ovaries and recovery date, oocyte recovery and enucleation dates, and assigning batch identification as shown, certifies that the information is true and correct when signing the certificate.

Each batch of oocytes is identified by name or logo of producer followed by breed code if known or UNK if breed is not known, then followed by a number unique within producer laboratory.

If oocytes are collected from an identified/registered female, precede registration number with the International Standards Organization (ISO) three letter country codes (cc). The person signing the form is certifying that such female was identified with her Certificate of Identification/ Registration.

Use the following codes to identify the breed and identify the month in all dates.
